We are pleased to announce that on June 1, 2009, Simtech became certified to the ISO 9001:2000/AS9120 standard. With the help of our local Connstep organization and the hard work of all Simtech employees, especially Mary Hall, our Quality Manager, we are proud of this achievement.

As a distributor/exporter of aerospace components, we are focused on providing our customers with the highest quality products and service. Our Quality Statement sums up our principle goal at Simtech: " Simtech's purpose is to always meet our customers' requirements by adhering to our industry's standards and legal obligations and to continuously improve our processes and products."

Sincerely,

Richard Leite
